Sourabh Chatterjee, Chief Technology and Digital Transformation Officer, Kotak Life said, “Joining Kotak Life at this pivotal moment is an incredible opportunity. AI and automation are redefining how insurers operate and my focus will be on building scalable platforms that unlock growth, improve risk management and deliver superior customer journeys. Our goal is to use technology not just as an enabler but as a driver of profitability and long-term value creation. Kotak Life is well-positioned to lead this transformation and I look forward to contributing to that vision.”
